

SIEC-ISBE: 82th INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE 2010
Albury Wodonga, Australia, 18 – 23 July, 2010

PEDAGOGICAL PROGRAM

W04 - Workshop

Title	Professional Development and Ethics for Educators: Assisting Students with Career Development through Skill Recognition and Self Understanding
Presenter's Name	Moody E. Crews
Presenter's Email Address	crewsm@winthrop.edu
Presenter's Complete Address	Winthrop University Counseling and Development Program Richard W. Riley College of Education Rock Hill, SC 29733
Presenter's expertise or experiences that relate to proposal topic	Dr. Crews is in his third year as a counselor educator. He teaches a variety of courses including career and lifestyle development, foundations and ethical issues in school counseling, diversity issues in counseling, lifespan developmental counseling (human development), and counseling children and adolescents. His research interests include career counseling and development, personal and professional development, ethics, and at-risk students.
Presenter's Name	Tena B. Crews
Presenter's Email Address	tcrews@mailbox.sc.edu
Presenter's Complete Address	University of South Carolina College of Hospitality, Retail and Sport Management Technology Support and Training Management Carolina Coliseum #118B Columbia, SC 29208

Presenter's expertise or experiences that relate to proposal topic	Dr. Crews has been teaching blended and pure online courses at the collegiate level for over ten years. She has served as the Director of Business Education at two universities. She currently serves as the Director of Online Learning and Development for the College of Hospitality, Retail and Sport Management and the Associate Director of Technology Pedagogy for the University of South Carolina's Center for Teaching Excellence. Her most current research is based on workload management strategies for online educators and assessment in an e-learning environment.
Description of Session Content	In the current global business environment, business educators in conjunction with school counselors must take a leadership role in preparing students to be successful in the global economy. Success in this global environment carries with it the need for a sensitive infusion of competition, teamwork, and career development. This workshop will provide the participants with an overview of the career development process. The workshop will also provide a discussion of educationally based professional and ethical standards. Participants will be provided with the opportunity to complete a career assessment instrument which will enable them to better understand the career development process.
Objectives of session	The presentation will: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Provide an overview of the career development process.</li> <li>2. Provide a discussion of the ethical implications for business educators and school counselors related to student career development</li> <li>3. Continue the discussion of career development on an international basis.</li> </ol>
Session attendees should be able to	have an understanding of the career development process and ethical implications for career development in their field.
Audience	teachers, counselors, teacher educators, and counselor educators
Handouts (to be distributed at session by presenter)	Yes